1. Garena Free Fire Redeem Codes

Redeem Codes are one of the crucial factors if you want to get diamonds for free and use them for a long time, they can able to reward a range of items that contain diamonds. Before, the Free Fire conflict, there were a lot of codes that offered in-game currency.

Besides currencies, gamers can able to utilize these codes to conquer other exciting freebies. At the time of using the codes, you can able to claim the rewards in a few minutes by using the Rewards Redemption Site. All of these codes have server restrictions for a short validity period.

2. Advance Server

The Advance Server is mainly the test server that Garena unlocks to test out the latest content just before a Free Fire update. The players who have participated and contributed can able to get 1000 diamonds for free by sharing the reports related to bugs and glitches that appear inside the server.

On providing the Advance Servers that can run only once every few months. This is definitely one of the great opportunity for individuals available for now, Besides, You can try to participate in the Bug Reporter program to get the currency.

Google Opinion Rewards This Google Opinion Rewards available is one of the best methods to earn free rewards. In this, the particular application provides you with Google Play Credits just after finishing the surveys given to you on the application.

After this, the collected credits can be utilized to top up Free Fire diamonds. In this, the most interesting fact is you can able to save credits and use them to purchase the membership or the Super Airdrop as it will provide better value for diamonds than a regular top-up.

Besides those mentioned methods, there are many players who try to use unethical ways such as unlimited diamond PK files or diamond generators. This is important to note that those practices don't work like the currency stored on the game's official servers.

Those PK files mainly lose your device's security as they can be filled with malware. Using updated files is against the game's Anti-Hack policy and can move your accounts toward the ban.

Now come to the unlimited diamond generator websites that will take you valuable data that may loss account access. As a result, you are advised to strictly avoid unlimited diamond APK files or diamond generators.
